What Can You Book on Chase Travel? +1(888)→483→→9719+1(888)→483→→9719 The Chase Travel portal is surprisingly comprehensive. Here's a quick look at everything available: Flights +1(888)→483→→9719 — Search hundreds of airlines, compare prices across dates, and filter by nonstop routes, cabin class, or departure time. Chase Travel aggregates fares from major carriers and budget airlines alike, so you're always comparing a full market view. Hotels +1(888)→483→→9719 — From boutique city hideaways to sprawling beach resorts, the hotel inventory on Chase Travel is extensive. You can filter by amenities, star rating, neighborhood, and guest reviews, making it easy to find exactly what matches your travel style. Rental Cars +1(888)→483→→9719 — Need wheels at your destination? Chase Travel connects you with all the major rental companies. You can sort by vehicle type, price, and pickup location — and pay with points if you choose. Cruises +1(888)→483→→9719 — This is where Chase Travel really stands out among card-linked booking portals. You can browse cruise itineraries by destination, cruise line, duration, and departure port — a feature that most competing portals simply don't offer. Activities & Experiences +1(888)→483→→9719 — Tours, excursions, theme park tickets, cooking classes, skip-the-line museum passes — Chase Travel's experiences section lets you pre-book the highlights of your trip, often at competitive prices compared to booking directly. ♦ Booking all elements of a trip — flight, hotel, and car — through Chase Travel in one session can simplify your itinerary and keep all your confirmations in one place. How to Use Chase Ultimate Rewards® When Booking +1(888)→483→→9719 This is the feature that separates Chase Travel from every generic OTA (online travel agency) out there. Chase Ultimate Rewards® points are among the most flexible and valuable travel currencies available — and using them through Chase Travel is one of the smartest ways to stretch their value. When you log in to chase.com and navigate to Chase Travel, your points balance is automatically visible. At checkout on any flight, hotel, car, or cruise, you'll see the option to pay with points, cash, or a combination of both. Here's where card choice really matters: Chase Sapphire Reserve® cardholders redeem points at 1.5 cents each through the portal — meaning 50,000 points translates to $750 in travel. Chase Sapphire Preferred® cardholders redeem at 1.25 cents per point, so 50,000 points = $625 in travel. This is a significant boost over the standard 1 cent per point value you'd get from a cash-back redemption. ♦ Earning tip: Use your Chase Sapphire card for the actual booking. Sapphire Reserve® earns 3x points on travel, and Sapphire Preferred® earns 2x — so you're building your next stash of rewards while spending this one. You can also transfer Ultimate Rewards® points to over a dozen airline and hotel loyalty programs — partners like United MileagePlus, Southwest Rapid Rewards, Hyatt, Marriott Bonvoy, and more. Transferring to a partner and then booking through that partner's own award system can sometimes unlock even greater value, particularly for business-class international flights. Step-by-Step: How to Book Through Chase Travel +1(888)→483→→9719 +1(888)→483→→9719 Here's exactly how to make a booking from start to finish: Step 1 — Log in to your Chase account at chase.com and locate the 'Travel' tab in the top navigation menu. This opens the Chase Travel portal, powered by Expedia's technology infrastructure, giving you access to millions of travel options. Step 2 — Select your travel type: Flight, Hotel, Car, +1(888)→483→→9719 Cruise, or Activities. Enter your destination, travel dates, and number of travelers. For flights, you can also choose one-way, round-trip, or multi-city itineraries. Step 3 +1(888)→483→→9719 — Browse results and use filters to narrow down options. Sort by price, departure time, number of stops, or star rating depending on what you're booking. Pay attention to the 'Recommended' tag — it often highlights the best value options for your search. Step 4 — Select your preferred option and review the full details. For flights +1(888)→483→→9719, confirm the baggage policy and change/cancellation rules before proceeding. For hotels, check the refund policy — flexible cancellation options are always worth a look. Step 5 — At checkout, choose your payment method. Select 'Pay with Points' +1(888)→483→→9719 to use your Ultimate Rewards® balance, or enter your Chase card for cash payment (which earns points on the purchase). You can also split the cost between points and card +1(888)→483→→9719. Step 6 — Review your booking summary, confirm traveler details, and complete the reservation. You'll receive a confirmation email, and the booking will appear in your Chase Travel trip manager. ♦ Always double-check the traveler name matches your passport or government ID exactly — especially for international flights.

Expert Strategies to Maximize Chase Travel

+1(888)→483→→9719

Strategy 1 — Stack Bonus Earning Categories

Chase Sapphire Reserve® earns 3x points on travel and dining. If you book through Chase Travel with your Sapphire Reserve®, that spending counts as travel — meaning you're earning at the bonus rate AND redeeming at the boosted 1.5 cent rate. That double advantage is hard to beat.

Strategy 2 — Mix Points and Cash for Flexibility

You don't have to burn all your points at once +1(888)→483→→9719. Use just enough points to bring a booking within your budget, and save the rest for a future trip. The partial redemption option is flexible and there's no minimum points requirement.

Strategy 3 — Compare Portal Prices Against Direct Booking

Chase Travel's +1(888)→483→→9719 prices are generally competitive, but it's always worth a quick comparison against the airline or hotel website directly. In many cases the prices are identical — but when they differ, factor in the point redemption value before deciding which is the better deal overall +1(888)→483→→9719.

Strategy 4 — Target Chase Travel Exclusive Deals

Chase Travel periodically features limited-time deals and promotions for cardholders. Check the 'Deals' section of the portal before any booking — you might find discounted hotel rates or bonus point earning offers that aren't available anywhere else.

Strategy 5 — +1(888)→483→→9719 Use the Pay Yourself Back Feature Strategically

If you've already booked travel directly (outside the portal), Chase's Pay Yourself Back feature may allow you to redeem points against those charges +1(888)→483→→9719 — sometimes at the same boosted redemption rate. Check your card's current Pay Yourself Back categories to see if travel purchases qualify. ♦

Strategy 6 — Book refundable rates whenever possible.

Life happens, and having the flexibility to cancel without penalty is worth the occasional slight premium.

Common Mistakes to Avoid

+1(888)→483→→9719 +1(888)→483→→9719

Not checking the cancellation policy before booking is one of the most common — and costly — mistakes travelers make. Chase Travel lists each property's and airline's refund rules clearly at checkout. Read them. A non-refundable rate might save you $20 upfront but cost you hundreds if plans change. Forgetting to check your points balance before choosing a payment method is another easy stumble +1(888)→483→→9719. Log in and check your Ultimate Rewards® balance first so you can plan your redemption strategy before you're staring at the checkout page. Redeeming points for cash-back instead of travel is a value leak. A point redeemed for 1 cent in cash is worth 50% less than the same point redeemed at 1.5 cents through Chase Travel +1(888)→483→→9719 with a Sapphire Reserve® card. Travel redemptions almost always win. Ignoring the experiences section is a missed opportunity. Many travelers book flights and hotels through Chase Travel but then buy tours and activities from third parties on arrival — sometimes paying more and missing out on the option to pay with points.

Travel Protections & Perks

+1(888)→483→→9719+1(888)→483→→9719 One of the hidden advantages of booking through Chase Travel with an eligible Chase card is access to meaningful travel protections. These aren't guarantees — always review your card's benefits guide for full terms — but here's what many Chase Sapphire cardholders enjoy: Trip Cancellation & Interruption Insurance — If your trip is cancelled or cut short due to covered reasons like illness or severe weather, you may be reimbursed for non-refundable expenses up to the card's stated limit. Trip Delay Reimbursement — Stuck at the gate for hours? If your flight is delayed by a covered amount of time, Chase may reimburse you for reasonable expenses like meals and accommodation. Baggage Delay & Lost Luggage Insurance — If your checked bags are delayed or lost by the carrier, your Chase card may cover the cost of essential purchases while you wait, or reimburse you for the value of lost items. Auto Rental Collision Damage Waiver — When you pay for a rental car with your Chase Sapphire card and decline the rental company's collision coverage, you may be covered for damage or theft of the rental vehicle — a benefit that can save you $15–$30 per day. ♦ These protections typically apply when the trip is booked using the eligible Chase card. Always pay for your booking with the card that carries the benefits you want to activate. Conclusion: Travel Smarter, Not Harder +1(888)→483→→9719 Chase Travel isn't just a booking portal — it's a travel ecosystem built around the value of your Ultimate Rewards® points. When you use it well, you're not just booking a flight or a hotel room; you're unlocking outsized value from rewards you've already earned, protecting your trip with meaningful insurance benefits, and simplifying the entire planning process from one centralized hub. The key is intention. Know your card's point redemption rate. Understand which categories earn bonus points. Read cancellation policies. Check the Deals section before every booking. These small habits, built over time, can translate into free flights, hotel nights, and cruise cabins that feel anything but free — because you earned every point. Whether you're booking a weekend city break +1(888)→483→→9719+1(888)→483→→9719, a beachside escape +1(888)→483→→9719, a cross-country road trip +1(888)→483→→9719, or an epic cruise through the Mediterranean +1(888)→483→→9719, Chase Travel has the tools to make it happen smarter, faster, and more rewarding.
